Mining Indaba 2026 Event Brochure

Stronger Together: Progress Through Partnerships

Welcome to Mining Indaba 2026

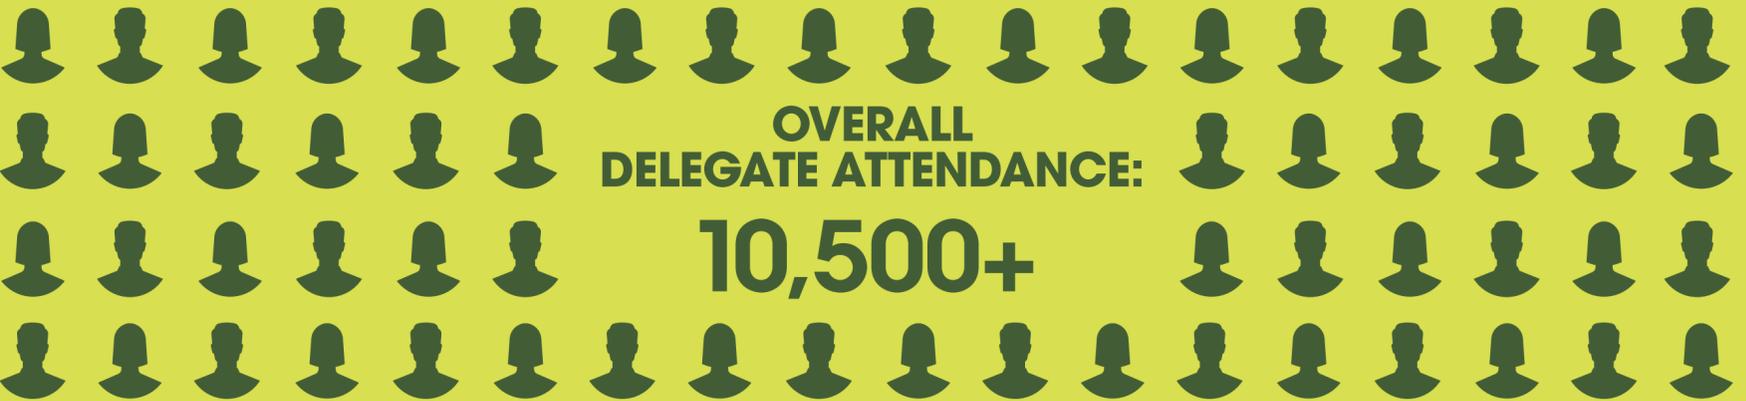

“Mining Indaba 2026 will unite the industry under the theme Stronger Together: Progress Through Partnerships. From governments and investors to communities, innovators, and operators, progress happens when we move forward together.

This year, we’re creating spaces for genuine connection, idea-sharing, and purposeful collaboration to accelerate transformation. The challenges we face are too complex for isolated solutions, but together we can turn them into opportunities.

Our greatest resource isn’t underground—it’s us, the people shaping the future. Let this be the year we build our industry and our continent together. Join us in Cape Town, where progress begins with partnership.”

Hear From Our Past Attendees

This is the biggest platform in Africa. The difference between Mining Indaba and every other event that I've attended, Mining Indaba connects you to investors.

Raadiyah Emam

*Head of Investor Relations
Ankh Resources Ltd*

Super insightful event and everyone's here, this is the best place to build a network in the critical minerals space.

Anastasia Kuskova

CEO and Co-Founder Sirius

We all share the same challenges and here we can find common solutions. If we are not present nobody knows what we can do. This Indaba approach is very rewarding.

Kavita Pema

*VP of Sustainability
AECI*

It's a great gathering for knowing who the major players are in the industry. It's saying we are here to do business. We have met major players across the value chain.

Mpangwe Mutwale

*Senior Relationship Manager
Zanaco*

What impressed me the most was the energy, enthusiasm and sense that we are about to go into the next cycle and that Africa could take that and grow for itself.

Catherine Raw

*Chief Development Officer
BHP*

There's a combination of opportunities we gain from Mining Indaba. I've met with investors, potential new suppliers and certainly generated new leads.

What's NEW at Mining Indaba 2026

Unprecedented scale, elevated quality — Mining Indaba's most impactful experience to date

Mining Indaba 2026 is not just bigger, it's bolder. With the exhibition floor expansion into CTICC 1 and 2, delegates can expect a reimagined experience where ideas, opportunities, and partnerships converge at a scale never seen before.

Junior Mining Showcase

The stage for tomorrow's mining leaders.

This dedicated platform spotlights juniors with African assets, offering unmatched visibility and investment opportunities.

- Direct access to global investors via the Investment Lounge
- Exclusive exposure through Junior Mining Spotlight sessions
- Tailored connections in the curated Investment Programme

Find out more here

Industry Intels

Sharper insights. Smarter strategies.

Industry Intels brings the energy through two dynamic programme streams, designed to meet your content and engagement needs:

- Theatre Sessions – presentation-led, big-picture insights
 - Roundtable Sessions – interactive, in-depth discussions
- Together, they deliver the data, analysis, and strategies governments, investors, and executives need to stay ahead in the evolving mining landscape.

Interactive Workshop Venue

Where ideas meet action.

Now in a larger, purpose-built venue, our workshops offer a more dynamic and welcoming space for collaboration. Designed to encourage stronger interaction, they allow more delegates to share their insights, contribute to the conversation, and engage directly with industry experts. These expanded sessions ensure every voice can help shape solutions to the mining sector's real challenges.

What's NEW at Mining Indaba 2026

Critical Minerals Programme

Defining Africa's growth.

Continuing last year's theme, this programme identifies the minerals vital for Africa's development and the energy transition. From rare earths to battery metals, it highlights policy, investment, and opportunities shaping the continent's future, taking place on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Downstream Buyers Programme

Connecting Africa to the world.

Due to high demand, this initiative has grown from a single workshop into an expanded half-day programme taking place on Monday afternoon. It creates a direct pipeline between downstream buyers and African producers — accelerating deal-making, strengthening supply chains, and forging long-term partnerships.

Partnership Spotlights

Where collaboration meets impact.

Partnership Spotlights shine a powerful light on the connections shaping Africa's mining future. Through engaging minister-and-CEO fireside dialogues, each session reveals how governments and industry leaders are aligning beyond shared goals: fueling innovation, investment, and inclusive growth across the continent.

The Pitstop – New Networking Space

Where deals are brewed.

Pull up a chair, grab a local brew, and let chance encounters turn into business wins.

Where Africa's Mining Leaders Set The Agenda

Investing in African Mining Indaba has never been just an annual gathering; it has become the continent's most trusted platform for shaping the trajectory of its mining and industrial future. Here, nations do more than present opportunities; they define their investment narrative, demonstrate progress, and connect with global partners essential to turning vision into reality. In this edition, we are proud to spotlight the governments at the forefront of this transformation:

countries whose reforms, policies, and partnerships are positioning Africa as a central player in the global economy.

These pages offer only a glimpse of the progress underway. From bold strategies to attract and retain investment, to advancing beneficiation and value addition, our government partners are laying the foundations of a more resilient, competitive, and integrated African mining sector. Indaba continues to be where continental priorities meet international capital and ideas, and where Africa's mining story is written on the global stage.

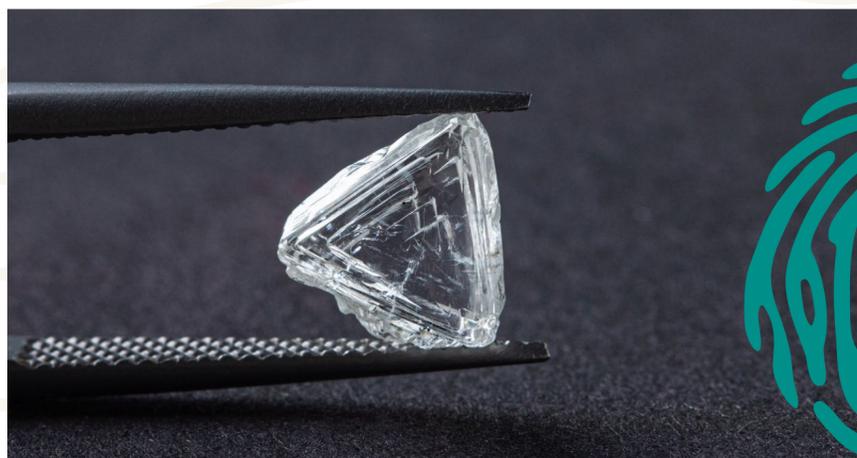

I look forward to welcoming you to Cape Town, where these stories come to life and new partnerships are forged.

Zeinab El-Sayed, Head of Government Partnerships,
Investing in African Mining Indaba

Angola – Diversifying Beyond Oil

Angola is opening vast underexplored areas to investment in base metals, critical minerals, and diamonds. Diamond production is set to reach 17.5m carats by 2027, supported by beneficiation and global branding through ENDIAMA and SODIAM. With reforms in infrastructure, skills, and financing, Angola is shaping a sustainable, inclusive mineral economy.

Botswana – Partnership-Driven Growth

Diamonds remain Botswana's backbone, with beneficiation creating jobs and skills.

The Debswana JV and Lucara's Karowe Mine showcase successful PPPs, while diversification into base metals, coal, and critical minerals strengthens resilience. Regional cooperation through SADC further embeds Botswana in a sustainable mineral economy.

Ghana – Gold Legacy, Lithium Future

Gold continues to anchor Ghana's economy, while lithium is emerging as a game-changer through the Ewoyaa project. New reforms — including the Gold Bond Act and community revenue-sharing — ensure accountability and inclusivity. Ghana is positioning itself as a leader in both traditional and green minerals.

Where Africa's Mining Leaders Set The Agenda

Guinea – Iron Dawn

The Simandou project will deliver Guinea's first iron ore exports in 2025, supported by major new rail and port infrastructure. Alongside world-leading bauxite reserves, policy reforms are driving local refining and value capture. With ultra-high-grade ore, Guinea is set to become a low-carbon iron supplier to the world.

Mozambique – Graphite, Gold & Growth

Home to the Balama Graphite Project, Mozambique is central to the EV supply chain. Gold production adds strength to its mineral mix, while a new mining bill boosts transparency and encourages local processing. Together, these reforms are building resilience and long-term investor confidence.

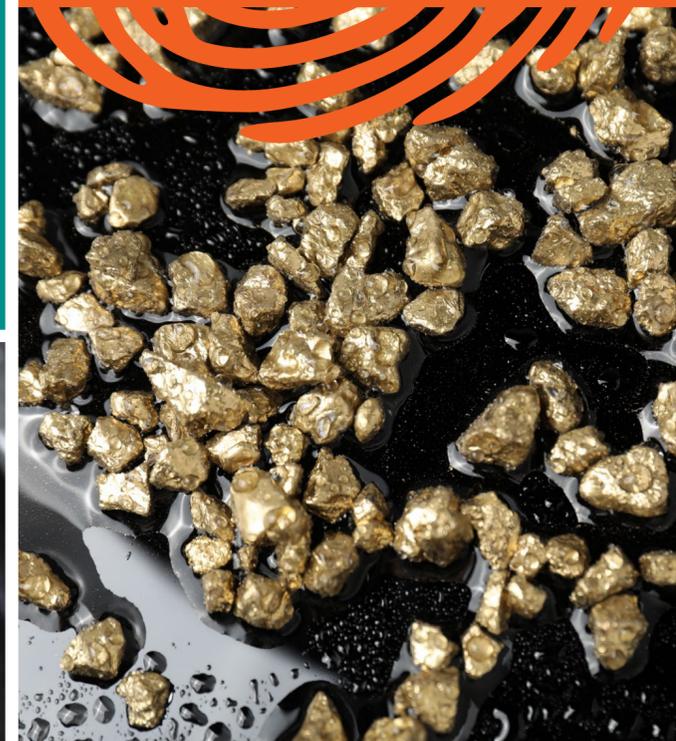

Zambia – Copper Roots, Critical Futures

Zambia plans to triple copper output to 3m tonnes by 2031 while expanding into cobalt, nickel, manganese, and lithium. Policy reforms support local processing, value chains, and regional collaboration. Zambia is positioning itself as a major hub for battery materials and clean energy minerals.

Zimbabwe – Gold Gains, Lithium Ambitions

Gold exploration is booming, while lithium attracts heavy Chinese investment in assets and processing ahead of a 2027 export ban. Challenges in the platinum sector persist, but overall mineral exports grew 27% in early 2025, underscoring Zimbabwe's promise in value-added mining.

South Africa – Innovation & Critical Minerals Leadership

As host of Mining Indaba 2026, South Africa will spotlight its platinum-group metals and critical minerals innovation. With beneficiation, infrastructure readiness, and R&D partnerships, the country is positioning itself as a hub for high-value processing and continental collaboration under the theme: Stronger Together: Progress Through Partnerships.

The Industry Will Be Here. Will You?

For the first time in Mining Indaba history, the exhibition will span two interconnected buildings, making 2026 the biggest edition to date. With the CTICC1 already 90% sold, demand has never been higher.

Every corner of the exhibition brings you face-to-face with innovators, financiers, service providers, and operators shaping the future of mining. From global giants like Rio Tinto, Caterpillar, Komatsu, Barrick, and Hexagon to powerhouses including Mota-Engil, Vivo Energy, Enaex Africa, and B2Gold Corp, the line-up showcases the sector's most influential players — with more still to be announced.

This is where connections spark, deals are struck, and the next chapter of mining begins.
